DRAFT RULES FOR THE ELECTION OF PRESIDENTS AND VICE-PRESIDENTS OF LOCAL BODIES.

I. A candidate for the office of president or vice-president must be proposed by one member and seconded by another. The names of all the candidates proposed and seconded shall be read out by the president or the presiding member.

II. (1) If there is only one duly nominated candidate, there shall be no ballot and he shall be deemed to have been elected.

(2) If there are two or more candidates, the votes of the members present at the meeting shall be taken.

III. Every member wishing to vote shall be supplied with a slip of paper. He shall forthwith proceed to the place set apart for the purpose and there write on the slip or supply the names of the candidate for whom he wishes to vote. He shall then fold up the slip so as to conceal the vote and deposit the same in a ballot-box placed in the view of the president or the presiding member and so constructed that the paper may be placed therein but not extracted therefrom without the box being opened. The president or the presiding member shall then open the box and count the votes in the presence of the members and declare the result of the election in accordance with the following instructions:—

(1) If there are only two candidates, the one who secures the larger number of votes shall be considered to have been elected.

If there is an equality of votes among all the candidates, or if two or more candidates based on the list have obtained an equal number of votes, the president or the presiding member shall ascertain by casting lots in the presence of the members which of whom votes shall be taken for the first time and the candidate who secures the larger number of votes shall be considered to have been elected. IV. No candidate whose name has been proposed and seconded shall take part in a ballot, but a candidate may withdraw at any stage, and after so withdrawing he may take part in any ballot. Similarly a candidate who has been elected at any stage under rule III (2) may take part in any ballot at subsequent stages.

V. Any voting paper which contains the signature of any of the voting members or in which more than one name is entered shall be invalid.

VI. Immediately after the meeting the president or presiding member shall forward the name of the person elected as president or vice-president of a district or taluk board to the Superintendent, Government Town, for publication in the Port St. George Gazette. The name of a person elected as president of a taluk board under these rules shall be published by a notification affixed to the notice-board of the office of the taluk board concerned.

VII. (1) The president or presiding member shall draw up the ballot papers, whether printed or written, and affix on each packet the number of papers it contains and the station to which it relates.

(2) These packets shall not be opened and their contents shall not be inspected or produced except under the orders of an officer or other competent authority.

I. A deposit must be made by each bidder before bidding, and will be received by the selling officer on the day of sale. A deposit of Rs. 10 will be required from any person wishing to bid for any particular shop or any large number of shops. This will be returned to Rs. 20 in the case of bidders for not more than two or three shops of an aggregate monthly value of Rs. 50 or less.

II. The shops will be put up to auction in the order in which they are notified, unless the selling officer sees reason to change that order. Upon prices will be fixed at the discretion of the Agency Commissioner. The average of the previous five years' rentals will be notified by the Agency Commissioner, whenever possible, for the information of bidders.

III. No person will be allowed to bid for another unless he holds a power of attorney from him.

IV. The officer conducting the sale may, at his discretion, refuse to accept the bid of any person on the ground (1) that he has been convicted by a criminal court or has previously been guilty of such a breach of the conditions of lease or of a contract under the Abkai (Opium) Act as to render him inadmissible as a holder of a license; or (2) that he is insolvent or is accused of Government; (3) that his bid is purely speculative; or (4) for any other valid reason.

V. The shops will be awarded to the highest bidder. If no one of the reasons mentioned in the preceding clause the highest bid is accepted, the next highest shall be taken or the shop reserved at the selling officer's discretion. In case of dispute, the selling officer's decision shall be final. The sale will be subject to formal confirmation of the Agency Commissioner, who will be at liberty to accept or reject any bid at his discretion. Such formal confirmation will be tantamount to an acceptance of the bid, unless revised by the Board of Revenue. Any general notice, and will be necessary whether the sale be held by the Commissioner himself or by any officer appointed by him.

VI. At the close of each day's sale, the deposits made by the unsuccessful bidders will be returned to them. As the nature permits, each person whose bid is accepted, shall or may, if so required by the selling officer, or otherwise at the close of the day's sale, make a further deposit of half a month's rent (in addition to the deposit made under clause I) for each shop or farm upon the initial deposit which or within two months' rent. Should he fail to do so, the deposit made by him under clause I will be forfeited and the shop or farm will be put up for sale immediately by the selling officer on the same conditions or otherwise proposed by the Commissioner and the defaulter will be debarred from bidding again for the same or for any other shop or farm in the same district or province.

VII. Any person in whom a shop or farm has been awarded and who has made deposit as provided in clauses I and VI, shall also deposit, in cash or approved security, within ten days from the date of confirmation of the Commissioner's acceptance of the bid, such further sum as with the former deposit will make up two months' rent for the shop or farm. Any person who fails to do so within the time specified will be liable to the same consequences as those mentioned in clause VI. In the event of the purchaser's death after issue of the license, the heirs and assigns shall be responsible for all amounts that may become due to Government under the terms of the license as well as for the proper observance of all the conditions of the license. Should the initial deposit exceed any amount named, the excess will be refunded unless the purchaser is requested to deposit twice that sum under clause VIII infra.

VIII. If an inquiry subsequent to sale the purchaser shall be found to be of doubtful solvency, he may be required either to deposit two months' instalment in addition to the sum aforesaid in clear full value or to give a money or mortgage to secure a money loan for the due payment of all moneys that may become due by him under the terms of the contract. The loan shall be secured (Article 17, Schedule I, Act 31 of 1910) and registered at the expense of the purchaser, if the amount named exceeds Rs. 1,000 in those cases where the Indian Registration Act is in force. In all cases where instalments are demanded, the licensee shall be bound to execute a counter-agreement.

IX. On the failure of any person to make a deposit or take out a license under clause VII or to comply with any requisition or to execute any engagement under clause VIII supra, the deposits already made may be forfeited and the shop or stall may be resold under the orders of the District Officer on a date to be decided by the Commissioner or may be otherwise disposed of by the latter officer. Instalment under this clause will be at the risk of the defaulting bidder, who will forfeit all sums paid, in the event of a loss, will be required to make good the difference between the total instalment payable for the whole period under the terms of the original sale and the total amount payable by the successful bidder at the resale. In the latter case, the forfeited deposits will be deducted from the loss arising from the resale, and the remainder, if any, will be recoverable in the same manner as if it were an asset of said licensee. Should, however, the forfeited deposits be greater than the loss by resale, the whole of such deposits will be credited to Government. The defaulting bidder will be similarly liable if the shop or stall is disposed of otherwise than by resale and such disposed results in loss to Government as compared with the original sale.

X. The purchaser of any abbeys, taverns, privileges is liable to the penalties provided for breaches of the conditions set forth below in the license, though a formal license may not have been issued to him.

XI. The deposits referred to in clause VII or VIII may be made either in cash or in recognised Government, Port Trust, Municipal or Local Board securities as by depositing Postal Savings Bank pass-books. The securities or Savings Bank pass-books deposited must be endorsed in the name of the Commissioner and Government property notes must be secured for payment of interest at the tenures at which they are deposited, if so required. Deposits in cash will be adjusted towards the instalments of rents due in the last months of the period of the lease. Deposits of securities or Savings Bank pass-books will be returned upon payment of the full amount of the rents due in cash unless the depositor wish that Government should take them over, in which case they will be taken over at the price of the day, and the balance, if any, due to Government must be paid in cash. The Standard Barometer and Thermometer are read at 8 a.m., 12 noon, 4 p.m., and 8 p.m., and the daily means are obtained by the application of hourly corrections, deduced from twenty years' observations. The station of the barometer is twenty-two feet above the level of the sea, and the station of the rain-gauge is two feet from the ground. The wind, rain and general weather registered are for the current civil day—from midnight to midnight.

The total quantity of rain collected since January 1st is 3.46 inches, the average day for the month being 0.11 inch.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The intention of the Select Committee which sat on the Bill of 1897, which now constitutes the present Act, was to make the decision of a survey reference to boundary questions unless it was challenged in a civil court. The judgment of the High Court in Second Appeal No. 23 of 1915 shows that the Bill as drafted did not carry out the intention. The main object of the present Bill is to rectify the law in the meaning which the words were originally intended to convey.

2. The opportunity has been taken to bring the Act into accord with modern arrangements in some other respects. The majority of the general surveys have been completed and the Act is now largely required in connection with survey of estates or other similar areas, encroachments, and the like. For this purpose, the clauses have been framed in more general terms so as to cover any such survey. At the same time, the special provision relating to settlement of boundary disputes by Collectors has been merged in the general provisions.

3. Power has also been reserved to the Local Government to direct the survey or resurvey of any estate or portion of an estate without an application from the proprietor whenever such survey or resurvey is found necessary for the better or more accurate assessment or levy of revenue or tax, and to recover a portion of the cost thereof from the proprietor. Such a survey would be beneficial alike to the Government and to the proprietor and it is reasonable that a portion of the cost should be borne by the proprietor. The principle to be followed in the assessment of the cost will be regulated by the rules framed under the Act.

4. In the same connection, opportunity has been taken to alter the arrangements regarding the collection and distribution of charges for surveys. The arrangements defined in the Act, under which any proprietor landholder may supply labour and stores, are not usually workable, and therefore it is proposed to direct that Government should pay the initial cost of all surveys and recover it. This will not prevent any individual landholder supplying his own stores or labour by arrangement with the survey officer.

5. The other amendments are merely verbal amendments required in order to bring the Act up to date.

The Hon'ble the President adjourned the Council to Wednesday, the 12th January 1955.

L. D. SWAMIKANNU,
 Secretary to the Legislative Council.

Proceedings of a Meeting of the Legislative Council of the Governor of Madras assembled under the provisions of the Government of India Act (5 & 6 Geo. V, Ch. 61, 5 & 7 Geo. V, Ch. 39, and 9 & 10 Geo. V, Ch. 101).

The Council assembled at the Council Chamber, Fort St. George, at 10-30 a.m. on Wednesday, the 12th day of January 1921.

HIS ROYAL HIGHNESS THE DUKE OF CONNAUGHT and His Excellency the Governor of Madras and 150 members of the Council were present.

His Excellency the Governor of Madras, in representing His Royal Highness the Duke of Connaught to inaugurate the Madras Legislative Council, said:—

"May it please Your Royal Highness—It is my privilege, on behalf of the Government and of the people of the Madras Presidency and their elected representatives assembled in this Council Chamber, to offer to Your Royal Highness a most cordial and respectful welcome to this the native Province of India, and to assure you that it is to me a matter of very special gratification that Your Royal Highness' landing on the shores of India on this memorable occasion should have taken place at our capital city. Fort St. George, under the ramparts of which this Council Chamber lies, marked the first establishment of the British Empire in India, and it is indeed appropriate that the same spot should now, nearly three hundred years later, witness an event so hot momentous to the destiny of India and England, as we trust, with no less benefit to its people.

"We in Madras share with the rest of India in the disappointment caused by the postponement of the visit of His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, whom we trust we may have the privilege of welcoming to this country before long, but we rejoice that his place as the representative of His Majesty the King-Emperor on the occasion of the inauguration of our new constitution has been taken by Your Royal Highness of whose personal services to this country in the past we have a lively recollection, and whose acquaintance with the problems of Indian Government ensures on the part of Your Royal Highness a special measure of understanding and sympathy.

"Your Royal Highness' presence in this Chamber as the representative of His Imperial Majesty adds more than testimony to the deep affection and esteem for the interests of India and its people which have always been cradled by His Majesty and indeed by all the members of the Royal Family. We in the Madras Presidency, of whatever race and creed, India humbly to recognize that attention and beg Your Royal Highness to convey to His Imperial Majesty our assurance of the deep loyalty and devotion which now as heretofore we bear to His Throne and Person.

"The new constitution which Your Royal Highness is about to inaugurate admits the elected representatives of the people of India for the first time to share in the Government of the country, and we recognize in it the foundation upon which will be raised in the years to come the completed edifice of our constitutional freedom, as a full partner in the fortunes of the British Empire. We pray that under God's providence the labours of this, the first popularly elected Assembly as so constituted in India, may with the full co-operation of all classes and orders of His Majesty's subjects lead ever more and more to the prosperity and development of our Presidency, to the peace, contentment, and happiness of its people, and to the strengthening of the bonds which bind us to the British Empire.

HIS ROYAL HIGHNESS THE DUKE OF CONNAUGHT then addressed the Council:—

"YOUR EXCELLENCY, MR. PRESIDENT AND MEMBERS OF THE MADRAS LEGISLATIVE COUNCIL.—By the command of His Majesty the King-Emperor, I have come to India to inaugurate on his behalf the new constitution of which in Madras this Council is an integral part, and to bring his affectionate greetings to his Indian people. My presence here to-day is a token of His Majesty's lively interest in the great movement of orderly progress towards constitutional liberty, and of his wishes for its success. Your welcome to me as the King-Emperor's delegate is a fitting response to his message of good-will. It will be my pleasing duty to convey it to His Majesty, and to lay before him your assurances of loyalty and devotion to His Throne and Person.

"Your Excellency and gentlemen,—I thank you for your welcome to me personally, and your reference to my previous association with India. Years have passed—years of rapid change—since I served in this country, but my memories of it are vivid and happy. I still have many friends among its people, and I deeply rejoice to visit it again.

"It has been a special pleasure to me to meet here as your Governor my friend Lord Willingdon. To the active discharge of his office he has brought those remarkable gifts of charm and personality which have everywhere gained him respect and affection. In Lord Willingdon you have a man who represents the best that England has to give you, the finest type of an English gentleman.

THE DUKE OF CONNAUGHT'S INAUGURAL ADDRESS; NEW MEMBERS AND ELECTION OF A DEPUTY PRESIDENT.

(The Duke of Connaught; the President.) (12TH JANUARY 1921.)

"No place in India could more appropriately have been selected for selecting upon the important duty with which His Majesty has entrusted me. It was here that the connection between India and the British Empire was first definitely established. It was in Fort St. George that Clive began the career during which, aided largely by the courage and tenacity of Madras troops, he secured a footing for the British power. It was here, nearly a hundred years ago, that Sir Thomas Munro as Governor of the Province, first defined, in a despatch to the Court of Directors, the true policy and the only justification of the British connexion—that the people of India should be taught, and guided, and fitted to govern themselves.

"At last that policy is passing into fruition. In this historic Proclamation it will be the task of Your Excellency and your officers, of you the Members of the Legislative Council, and of the Ministers who will be chosen from among you, to cherish its growth and to hand it on to your successors, a stage further towards perfect continuity. As that task I have come to wish you Godspeed on behalf of your Sovereign and the sister nations of our Empire.

"In India, as elsewhere, political development is only a vehicle for human life and human progress. Its function is to provide a medium with means for increasing the happiness of the people. The form has an importance of its own; but the spirit is vital. For liberty, unless framed by wisdom follows in its steps, only easily becomes a greater tyranny. With those therefore who would share in the building-up of your new constitution, the thought of the people's happiness must ever be paramount and I can imagine how, at this epoch in your history, your minds are turning towards that high ideal. The pursuit of it demands of you many qualities—patience, insight, sympathy and the like—but if I were to try to enumerate them, I should need to use the well-known words that 'the greatest of these is charity.' I want not only courtesy between political opponents and tolerance of antagonistic views, though those views will be needed to sweeten your labours. I am thinking rather of that wider tolerance, which blazes the stepways of our fitting retreats. It is this form of charity which must surely be the underlying principle and the aim of our political growth. India has suffered much in the past from its cloak of religion. She has suffered from hard distinctions between social orders. These mean division, and division is weakness. They were constraining, and constraining is unhelpful. To mitigate these in the future will be your chief task.

"I would permit to speak to you on the last topic which will immediately confront you as the substance of your Council and your Ministers. I am not sufficiently familiar with them. But as one who has for many years watched the unfolding of political freedom in other lands, and still more as a true friend of India, I may venture to offer to you, and to the other Councils which I shall meet elsewhere, a few words of general application to the great work which lies before you.

"Let the first of these be the plan which I have just put before you. It is a plan that you should seek differences and magnify points of contact. Thus called, the new political machinery to arise be depressed and to lower the walls between creeds and castes and hostile interests. The task will be far from easy, but I am confident that you will not shrink from it.

"I now declare the new Legislative Council for the Madras Presidency established under the Government of India Act, 1919, to be duly open, and I join with Your Excellency and with all those who love India in a heartfelt prayer for the Almighty's guidance in your labours."

The President of the Council, in acknowledging His Royal Highness' address, said:—

"MAY IT PLEASE YOUR ROYAL HIGHNESS.—On behalf of the Madras Legislative Council, I beg Your Royal Highness to convey to His Majesty the Queen's warmest and profound loyalty and devotion to his august Throne and Person and also to tender his most respectful thanks for His Majesty's gracious message through the pen of Your Royal Highness to-day. I beg Your Royal Highness to convey to His Gracious Majesty the assurance that this Council will do its utmost to justify the confidence reposed in it."

NEW MEMBERS.

After His Royal Highness the Duke of Connaught and His Excellency the Governor of Madras had left the Council Chamber, the following new members made the prescribed oath of affirmation of allegiance to the Queen:—

Raja Sri HANGARAJA Das, Raja of Jeppore,
Dr. GUNASEKARAN,
V. HANUMANTHAN MANGAYAT Subb Bahadur,
M.R. Sri. Divya Bahadur T. DURAI ANANTHAN Arangal.

ELECTION OF A DEPUTY PRESIDENT.

The Council, under No. 8 of the Standing Orders of the Madras Legislative Council framed under section 78-B (7) of the Government of India Act, then proceeded to elect one of its members to be a Deputy President.
